Description:

Drastically Reduced Price – Incredible Business & Investment Opportunity!

Johnson Lumber, formerly Cass Lake Building Center, is now available at a highly attainable price, offering massive potential for entrepreneurs and investors. Situated on 2.11 acres, the property features 5 versatile buildings, including a 74x100' main building with 2,400 sq/ft of office/retail space and 4,700 sq/ft of attached warehouse/cold storage. Four additional spacious storage buildings (120x28, 128x40, 140x32, 120x32) provide loading docks, customer loading zones, and covered storage areas, all on a secure, fenced lot.

This property is perfect for those looking to continue operating as a lumber yard or transform it into a storage facility, boat/RV storage, warehouse, office suites, or mixed-use business. With the Cass Lake Chain nearby, demand for boat and RV storage is high, making it an ideal location for a storage-focused venture.

The property offers ample parking, versatile buildings, and loading areas, providing flexibility for nearly any commercial use. Its combination of size, location, and price makes it a rare and affordable opportunity in the region.

Opportunities for Growth:

Expand retail operations or showroom space to offer additional products or specialty items

Provide delivery services to local contractors and homeowners

Add high-margin product lines such as custom millwork, cabinetry, or prefabricated homes

Host workshops or DIY clinics to engage the local community and drive foot traffic

Prime Location:

Situated on a well-traveled intersection of Highways 2 and 371, Johnson Lumber enjoys excellent visibility and accessibility for both local and seasonal customers. With the growing Cass Lake community and increasing demand for housing and construction services, now is the perfect time to step into ownership of this thriving commercial business in
