Description:

Set on 100 feet of Rice Lake shoreline and just a boat ride into Inguadona Lake, this two-bedroom, two-bathroom getaway blends classic Northwoods charm with thoughtful updates and the chance to add your own finishing touches. The setting is everything: a wide, level lakeside yard framed in tall pines, and a massive wraparound deck that brings the outdoors into your daily rhythm. Inside, the home feels like a true lodge. The main level opens beneath a vaulted ceiling lined in knotty pine, with matching walls and hardwood floors that add warmth and continuity. A full wall of lakeside windows rises two stories, pulling the water, sky, and treetops into the heart of the home. A gas stone fireplace anchors the space, complete with a wood mantle taken straight from the forest. The kitchen has been refreshed with new granite countertops and a new sink. It flows easily into the dining and living areas, ideal for gathering after long lake days. Upstairs, the loft serves as a spacious second bedroom and can easily hold multiple beds. From here, you look out over the lake from a second-story vantage point, while a large window on the opposite wall brings even more natural light and forest views inside. The walkout lower level mirrors the lodge feel, with another stone gas fireplace and a family room that walks out to a lakeside patio. A full bath, a flexible bonus room ideal for built-in bunks, and a wall that practically begs for Murphy beds make this space ready for guests and future design ideas. With several updates in place, the groundwork is here; you get to finish the remaining pieces exactly the way you want them.
