Description:

Near Hackensack and located between Birch and Ten Mile lakes, the Historic Hiram Town Meeting Hall was built in 1973, sits on 2 nicely wooded acres with a mixture of Oaks, Aspen and a couple of large Norway Pines on either side of the building site. No well or running water and currently there exists an "Outhouse or Privy", that would need, (more than likely), to be vacated due to the height above mottled soils. (4) 6 foot Electric Baseboard heaters plus an Old Non- UL listed wood stove are the primary heat. Low maintenance exterior including metal fascia and soffits. Full disclosure: The Sellers have indicated to me that it was determined the exterior sheathing under the vinyl siding is an asbestos fiber board material.
