Description:

Set among towering pines and hardwoods on nearly 2.25 acres, this Boy Lake property offers a setting that feels quietly removed, yet deeply connected to one of the area’s most sought-after lakes. A circular drive welcomes you in, where the home’s maintenance-free exterior, metal siding and roof, blends naturally into the wooded surroundings. This 1-bedroom, 1-bathroom property is a strong fit for those who value time outdoors. Whether it’s early mornings on the lake, afternoons exploring the surrounding woods, or evenings around the fire, the setting lends itself to a simpler, more connected way to spend your time.

Inside, the open living space is anchored by warm wood finishes, vaulted ceilings, and exposed beams that create an inviting, lodge-style feel. The kitchen offers abundant cabinetry, a center island with seating, and space for gathering, all flowing easily into the dining and living areas. A freestanding wood stove adds a natural focal point, while large windows bring in the surrounding woods. Details such as the live log accent rising from the half wall to the ceiling add a touch of character you don’t often find.

Step outside to a covered porch and adjoining deck, an ideal place to settle in after a day on the water. The yard opens to a dedicated firepit area, offering another place to gather beneath the trees.

One of the standout features is the attached oversized garage, offering exceptional space for storing boats, ATVs, bikes, snowmobiles, and all the gear that comes with time spent up north. It’s a practical extension of the property that makes coming and going easy in every season.

A walk to the lake reveals one of the property’s most unique features. The path winds through a stand of mature cedars, forming a beautiful canopy as you make your way along the boardwalk to the shoreline. With over 180 feet of frontage, the setting at the water’s edge feels peaceful and private, with views across to a nearby island. While set back from the lake, the tradeoff is space, seclusion, and access to Boy Lake, which is known for its fishing and connection to the Boy River, eventually leading to Swift Lake and Leech Lake for extended exploration. A finished blue fish house sits nearby and can easily serve as a bunkhouse for additional guests. If you’ve been looking for a property that offers privacy, acreage, and access to a larger lake system, paired with the storage and functionality to support an active Northwoods lifestyle, this one is worth the walk.
