Description:

There's something special about looking out through the trees and seeing Lind Lake below. With 236 feet of shoreline, this two-bedroom lake home takes advantage of its elevated setting with lake views from both inside and out. The main-level living room features a vaulted wood ceiling, exposed beams, wood floors, expansive windows and a wood-burning stove set against a stone hearth. The adjoining dining area and kitchen keep the gathering spaces connected, while the screened porch offers another place to enjoy the wooded surroundings and fresh lake air. A bedroom and full bath are located on the main level. Downstairs, the walkout level includes a second bedroom and family room, providing additional space for family and guests. The garage adds welcome storage, while the unfinished area above offers possibilities for a hobby room, studio or additional storage. Outside, mature trees surround the home and frame views of the lake. Stairs lead down the hillside to the shoreline, where a grassy area provides space for kayaks, canoes and lake gear near the dock. With 236 feet along Lind Lake, there's plenty of waterfront to enjoy.
